Description

Model Joris Navy

Shoes with a wider cut and very flexible sole. This is a new model series of the brand PROTETIKA. It uses a different shoe structure than other models of this brand. The upper part of the shoe is stitched and adhered to the sole. Thanks to this technology, a hard-tensioning insole is not used in the shoe. Shoes are soft and flexible. The sole has no internal heel and the front part is shaped to provide plenty of space for toes. This model does not have a firm heel. This is a full-leather footwear with Velcro fastening. The leather insole is removable and shaped to support the arch.
